BROADBAND AFFORDABILITY GAP

Affordability has emerged as the number one challenge to closing the digital divide. We have a historic opportunity to close two-thirds of the digital divide by connecting 18 million American households that have access to the Internet but can't afford to connect.

The broadband affordability gap is concentrated in

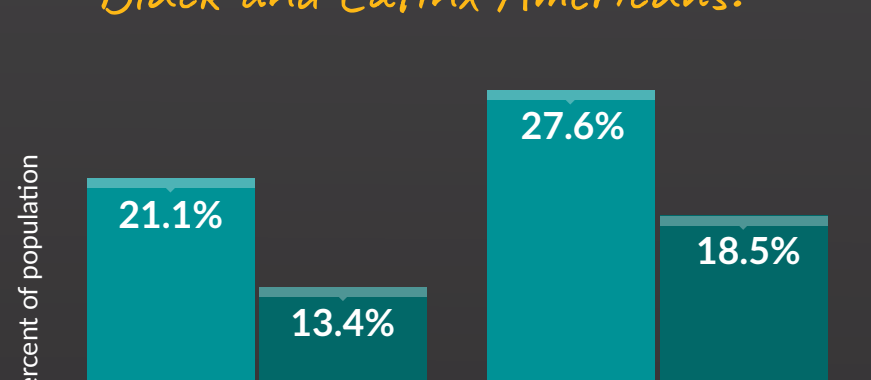

America's most unconnected communities, where

25% or more of the households lack home broadband.

Largest in our poorest communities.

Disproportionately impacts Black and Latinx Americans.

Significantly higher for Americans with less than a high school education.

A historic opportunity to close the broadband affordability gap. To seize this moment we must:

- 1 Leverage data to identify unconnected households
- 2 Launch adoption programs to help households sign-up for federal broadband programs and home broadband service
- 3 Deploy free Wi-Fi to low-income apartment buildings

EducationSuperHighway is a national nonprofit with the mission to close the digital divide for the 18 million households that have access to the Internet but can't afford to connect. We focus on America's most unconnected communities, where more than 25% of people don't have Internet.
